LEARNING OBJECTIVES

By the end of this session, you will be able to:

Understand the structure of a professional business report.

Convert unstructured notes into organized meeting minutes.

Use AI to summarize lengthy information.

Create executive summaries for managers and senior leadership.

Distinguish between a detailed report and an executive summary.

Identify information that requires human review.

WHY BUSINESS REPORTS MATTER

Businesses generate a huge amount of information every day:

Sales data

Project updates

Meeting notes

Customer feedback

Financial information

Employee performance

Market research

The challenge isn't always creating information.

The challenge is:

“ Turning large amounts of information into something people can quickly understand and act upon. ”

This is where AI can help.

WHAT IS A BUSINESS REPORT?

BUSINESS REPORT

A business report is a structured document that communicates information, findings, analysis, and recommendations to help people make decisions.

A report might answer questions such as:

What happened?

Why did it happen?

What are the results?

What problems exist?

What should we do next?

BASIC STRUCTURE OF A BUSINESS REPORT

A typical report contains:

Not every report needs every section, but this is a useful structure.

QUARTERLY SALES PERFORMANCE REPORT

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

Sales increased by 12% during Q2 compared with Q1. Online sales contributed most of the growth, while retail sales remained relatively flat.

INTRODUCTION

This report evaluates sales performance during the second quarter.

FINDINGS

- Total sales increased by 12%.
- Online sales increased by 20%.
- Retail sales increased by 2%.
- Customer acquisition increased by 15%.

ANALYSIS

The increase in online sales was primarily associated with the company's new digital marketing campaign.

RECOMMENDATION

Increase investment in digital marketing while improving retail customer engagement.

CONCLUSION

The company experienced positive growth in Q2, with online channels providing the strongest performance.

HOW AI HELPS WITH REPORTS

AI can assist with:

Creating report structures

Build a clear and logical outline for different types of reports.

Organizing notes

Convert messy notes into well-organized sections and bullet points.

Summarizing data

Condense large amounts of data into key insights and highlights.

Writing introductions

Create clear, engaging introductions for reports.

Identifying trends

Detect patterns and trends from data and present them clearly.

Drafting recommendations

Suggest actionable recommendations based on analysis.

Rewriting content professionally

Improve clarity, tone, grammar, and overall professional quality.

BUT REMEMBER:

AI can help write the report, but humans must verify
the facts and conclusions.

AI PROMPT FOR REPORT WRITING

INSTEAD OF

Write a report about sales.

USE THIS PROMPT

You are a business analyst.

Create a quarterly sales performance report using the information below.

Include:

- 1 Executive Summary
- 2 Key Findings
- 3 Sales Trends
- 4 Possible Reasons for Changes
- 5 Recommendations
- 6 Conclusion

Use professional business language.

Do not invent statistics that are not provided.

Data:

[Insert sales information]

TIP: Providing role, structure, instructions, and data helps AI generate more accurate, relevant, and useful reports.

The last instruction is particularly important.

WHAT ARE MEETING MINUTES?

Meeting Minutes, often called MoM (Minutes of Meeting), are a written record of what happened during a meeting.

They usually contain:

-  Date
The date of the meeting.
-  Time
The start and end time of the meeting.
-  Participants
The names (or roles) of people who attended.
-  Agenda
The topics planned to be discussed.
-  Discussion Points
A summary of the key points discussed.
-  Decisions
The decisions made during the meeting.
-  Action Items
Tasks or actions that need to be completed.
-  Responsible Person
The person responsible for each action item.
-  Deadline
The due date for each action item.

 MINUTES OF MEETING (MoM)
 Date	15 May 2025
 Time	10:00 AM – 11:30 AM
 Participants	Aman Raj, Priya Sharma, Rahul Verma, Neha Patil
 Agenda	- Q2 Project Update - Challenges and Risks - Action Plan
 Discussion Points	- Reviewed progress of the Q2 project. - Identified delay in module development. - Discussed resource allocation.
 Decisions	- Extend module development deadline by one week. - Allocate additional resources to testing phase.
 Action Items	 Responsible Person	 Deadline
Complete module development	Rahul Verma	22 May 2025
Prepare testing plan	Neha Patil	20 May 2025
Client update meeting	Aman Raj	23 May 2025

EXAMPLE OF RAW MEETING NOTES

Imagine you quickly wrote these notes during a meeting:

RAW MEETING NOTES (MESSY)

Monday meeting
Rahul - marketing campaign delayed
Priya says ads need approval
Website team finished homepage
Payment page still pending
Launch maybe Friday
Rahul will send final ad copy Tuesday
Priya approve campaign by Wednesday
Dev team finish payment page Thursday

PROFESSIONAL MEETING MINUTES (AI GENERATED)

Meeting Title: Marketing Campaign Update Meeting
Date: Monday
Prepared By: (Your Name)
Attendees: Rahul (Marketing), Priya (Marketing), Website Team, Development Team

Agenda

- Marketing Campaign Update
- Website Development Status
- Launch Timeline
- Action Items

Summary of Discussion

- Rahul informed that the marketing campaign is delayed.
- Priya mentioned that ads need approval.
- Website team has completed the homepage.
- Payment page is still pending.
- Launch is targeted for Friday.

Decisions

- Proceed with the campaign after ad approval.
- Continue development to complete payment page as per timeline.
- Target launch date: Friday.

Action Items	Responsible Person	Deadline
Send final ad copy	Rahul	Tuesday
Approve campaign	Priya	Wednesday
Finish payment page	Development Team	Thursday

These raw notes are messy and unclear.
AI can turn them into professional minutes.

A manager shouldn't have to interpret notes.
Minutes should be clear, organized, and actionable.

AI-GENERATED MEETING MINUTES

MINUTES OF MEETING

Meeting:
Product Launch Planning

Date:
Monday

Participants:
Rahul, Priya, Development Team

DISCUSSION POINTS

- Marketing campaign approval is currently pending.
- The website homepage has been completed.
- The payment page is still under development.
- The team is targeting a Friday launch.

DECISIONS

- Marketing materials will be finalized before launch.
- The development team will prioritize the payment page.

ACTION ITEMS

Action	Owner	Deadline
Send final ad copy	Rahul	Tuesday
Approve campaign	Priya	Wednesday
Complete payment page	Development Team	Thursday

Why “Don’t Add Information” Matters

Suppose your notes say:

“Payment page expected Thursday.”

AI should NOT turn that into:

“Payment page will definitely be completed Thursday.”

There is an important difference between:

Expected

- Indicates a plan, assumption, or estimate
- May change
- Lower certainty

Confirmed

- Indicates a decision or final commitment
- Not expected to change
- Higher certainty

Key Takeaway

AI can accidentally change the meaning of your notes. This is why human review is essential.

What is an Executive Summary?

An Executive Summary is a short version of a longer report designed for senior managers or decision-makers.

Senior executives often don't have time to read a 20-page report.

They want to know:

1. What happened?

2. Why does it matter?

3. What should we do?

Detailed Report vs Executive Summary

 Detailed Report	 Executive Summary
 Long	 Short
 Detailed information	 Key information
 Data and analysis	 Major findings
 Methodology	 Business impact
 Supporting evidence	 Recommendations
 For detailed review	 For decision-makers

Example: Detailed Information vs Executive Summary

Detailed Information

During Q2, total sales increased from ₹80 lakh to ₹92 lakh. Online sales increased from ₹30 lakh to ₹40 lakh, while retail sales increased from ₹50 lakh to ₹52 lakh. The marketing team launched a targeted digital campaign in April, which resulted in increased website traffic and online conversions.

Executive Summary

Q2 sales increased by 15%, primarily driven by strong online performance following the digital marketing campaign. Management should consider increasing investment in high-performing digital channels.

Notice what happened?

The detailed information became a decision-focused summary.

Prompt for Executive Summary

You are an executive business analyst.

Summarize the following report for a senior management audience.

Focus only on:

- Key results
- Important risks
- Business impact
- Major recommendations

Limit the summary to 5 bullet points.

Do not introduce information that is not present in the original report.

Use this prompt with your report content for a clear, concise, decision-ready summary.

Three Levels of Summarization

AI can summarize the same information at different levels.

Original

"The customer satisfaction survey included 2,000 respondents. Overall satisfaction increased from 78% to 84%. The largest improvement was observed in response time, which increased from 70% satisfaction to 89%. However, product quality satisfaction remained unchanged at 76%."

Purpose:

The full original information.

Level 1 — Detailed Summary

Customer satisfaction improved significantly from 78% to 84%, primarily because of improvements in response time. Product quality satisfaction remained unchanged and represents an area requiring further attention.

Around 500 words

Useful for:

Managers and team members

Level 2 — Executive Summary

Customer satisfaction improved to 84%, driven by faster support response times, while product quality remains a key improvement area.

Around 100–200 words

Useful for:

Senior management

Level 3 — One-Line Summary

Customer satisfaction rose 6 percentage points, but product quality remains unchanged.

One sentence

Useful for:

Dashboard or presentation headline

AI WORKFLOW FOR BUSINESS DOCUMENTS

AI handles the heavy lifting. Humans provide the final judgment.

AI EXCELS AT STRUCTURE & COMPRESSION

AI can process large amounts of information quickly and turn it into clear, concise, well-organized content.

HUMANS REMAIN RESPONSIBLE FOR:

MEANING
Ensuring the intent and message are correct

ACCURACY
Verifying facts, numbers, and references

CONTEXT
Understanding the situation, audience, and background

BUSINESS JUDGMENT
Applying experience and making the right calls

AI accelerates the process. Human expertise ensures quality and trust.

- 3 Launch is planned for 20 August; focus is on completing the dashboard by 17 August, finalizing the sales report by Friday, and reviewing the marketing budget.

COMMON MISTAKES

Avoid these pitfalls to ensure accurate, reliable, and useful AI-generated summaries.

Summarizing Too Aggressively

Important information can disappear.

Example: Omitting a key risk or constraint may lead to wrong decisions.

Allowing AI to Invent Details

AI should never fill missing information with assumptions.

Example: If a deadline is not mentioned, AI should not assume or create one.

Removing Context

A short summary can become misleading if important context is removed.

Example: Results without background or reasons may be misinterpreted.

Not Reviewing Names and Deadlines

AI can accidentally change critical details.

Example: Names, dates, numbers, and responsibilities must be verified.

Treating the Executive Summary as the Entire Report

An executive summary is a shortcut to the report, not a replacement for detailed analysis when that analysis is needed.

Example: Use the summary for quick understanding; refer to the full report for detailed review and decisions.
